

Mobile Banking Privacy Policy - First National Bank of Griffin

What does First National Bank do with your personal information from the mobile application?

The mobile banking application requests access to information stored on your device such as location, camera, contacts, images, or other features you are enrolled in to enrich and simplify your own user experience and improve our services, as well as provide additional security to protect your account.

What is important to understand about granting permission to the mobile application?

Before you grant access to this information, you will be prompted to give the application that permission. If you do not wish to grant that permission, you may decline. If you change your mind at a later date, those permissions can be updated in your device settings.

What types of personal information do we collect for mobile banking?

Location: to prevent fraudulent activity and display locations near you
Contacts / Contact lists: to allow you to send money via your mobile app. We only add the contacts you choose, and that information is not shared.
Camera / Images: to capture check images, take pictures, video, scan QR codes, scan ID, and to conduct video chat.

How does First National Bank protect your personal information?

To protect your personal information from unauthorized access and use, we use security measures that comply with federal law. These measures include computer safeguards and secured files and buildings. The application information is retained in accordance with state and federal record retention laws. Please contact us to determine specific timeframes for your personal stored information and if that information may be deleted.

Please contact First National Bank of Griffin at 770.227.2251 regarding questions about the information included in this Mobile Banking Privacy Disclosure.
